

A BIG AUDIENCE HEARS THIRD LECTURE

Dr. J. W. Stewart of Missouri, delighted the third Chautauqua audience of the season last night at the Central School yard. The subject of his lecture was "When Singleness is Blessed," and in the two hours in which he held his audience undividedly he packed many wholesome sermons, much humor and pathos and received many rounds of enthusiastic applause.

His reference to the work of Francis E. Willard and Florence Nightingale as women who in their singleness had given noble examples and great service to the world, were greeted by tremendous applause.

Lincoln he pictured as a man who stood singly and alone in face of the country's greatest crisis, and Folk of Missouri, was presented as an example of present day manhood, who blessed his state by his stand alone against powerful corruption and graft.

Dr. Stewart appears again in the Chautauqua course on next Sunday evening, and no doubt every person in attendance last night will be present to hear Dr. Stewart again in his second lecture. He has been twenty years on the Chautauqua platform, beginning his work in the first Chautauqua west of the Mississippi river at Ottawa, Kan., and has had continuous return dates at many places.

Tonight is the great treat of the course. William Jennings Bryan is to give his lecture on "The Prince of Peace."

With the Hungarian Orchestra, two nights, Nicolai, the Magician, two nights, Nicolai, the Magician, and Sunshine Hawks yet to come, the Bisbee feast of good things is only fairly begun.

CLIFTON LODGE 1174 WILL BE INSTITUTED

District Deputy C. E. Rinehart, of the B. P. O. E., yesterday was in receipt of a telegram from Dr. L. A. W. Burch of Clifton, saying that everything was in readiness for the proper fixing of the antlers to a herd of seventy-five maverick Elk running loose on the Blue range. District Deputy Rinehart, accompanied by Esquire I. F. Burgess and Past Exalted Ruler McGregor, will leave here on the morning of September 27 and on the evening of the 28th inst. Clifton lodge 1174 will be instituted.

Report comes from Clifton that elaborate preparations are being made in the big copper camp for the proper installation of the baby lodge and the entertainment of visiting brothers. A large delegation of Elks will go from Globe to be present at the installation and a Globe team, under the direction of District Deputy Rinehart, will have charge of the installation.

WILL GIVE SMOKER HONOR OF "RINEY"

As a fitting token of their regard, a number of his friends are planning a smoker in honor of C. F. Rinehart, who leaves Bisbee in a short time for El Paso. The date has been set for next Saturday and an official announcement will be made as soon as the lodge has ratified the plan.

Mr. Rinehart, during the time that he has been in Bisbee, has been one of the leaders of Elksdom and is at present territorial deputy for Arizona.

According to the plans of the committee heading the affair the smoker will not be entirely for Elks, a few close friends of Mr. Rinehart who are not lodgemen being present.

ALFALFA GROWERS WILL MEET IN EL PASO

El Paso, Texas—A convention of all the alfalfa and grain growers of Mexico, has been called to meet in El Paso the week of Nov. 1-7. This convention will be the first gathering of the grass and grain growers ever held in the Great Southwest, the home of the industry, and arrangements are being made to have a number of government experts deliver a course of practical talks on the growing, curing and marketing of alfalfa and its kindred forage plants.

The Southwestern Alfalfa Growers Convention is to be held in connection with the First Annual El Paso Fair and Exposition. The fair association is arranging to set aside considerable space for the exhibits of the growers who attend the convention and will also offer a number of cash prizes for the best collection and individual exhibits in this important division of the agricultural industry of the Southwest.

AMUSEMENTS

This week there is little diversity at the Orpheum Theatre. Roscoe Arbuckle discards the Dutchman for a few days and treads the boards clad in the evening attire of a society man. "Turning the Tables," is the name of the skit. One Finnegan, impersonated as usual by Walter Reed, butts into a reception to sell a load of wood. He is kicked out several times and the last time he re-enters is made to go through circus stunts to the crack of Charley Goodbright's whip, which is the name of the character Arbuckle plays. Then Finnegan departs, to return with a six-shooter, with which he proceeds to turn the whole reception into a circus with Goodbright as the chief performer, the curtain falling abruptly as Finnegan orders men and women alike to stand on their heads.

The songs of this performance are a distinctive feature, and were repeatedly encored, especially Miss Minnie Durfee's "You're the Fellow that's been Running After Me," in which she selects a victim somewhere in the boxes or "first three." "Good Bye, Manhattan Isle" was sung by Bert Nixon, and Miss Louise Dean rendered two pleasing solos. "Coming Thru the Rye," in dialect, taking the house by storm, as it always does. Mr. Arbuckle and chorus also sing "Since Coburn Wrote Mary Was a Grand Old Name." Adequate settings and costumes round out a creditable performance.

Story of Dying Trees.

Attention has recently been directed to the number of trees in Glasgow which are in a dying state, their sickly condition being attributed to smoke. A correspondent mentions a singular coincidence in regard to five trees which John Pattison planted in the center of his garden in Kelvingrove on the birth of his five sons. Two of his sons died early in the nineteenth century, but three lived till after 1850, when there were only three of the trees standing. On the night that his son Matthew died one of the trees fell, and on the night of Frederick and John's death (some years between) one of the trees fell, certainly, as the writer remarks, a singular coincidence.—Glasgow Herald.

A Goethe Celebration.

The hundredth anniversary of the death of Frau Rat, the mother of Goethe, was celebrated at Frankfurt-on-the-Main. A number of the admirers of the poet met at the Goethe house, where a model of a monument of Frau Rat by the well-known sculptor Herr Josef Kowarsik was on exhibition. Frau Rat's grave in Peter's cemetery was covered with flowers.—Berliner Lokal-Anzeiger.

Greek Architecture.

It is astonishing that students of Greek literature and Greek thought should not be definitely trained in the knowledge of Greek architecture. He who knows only the literary expression of ancient Greece, great as that is, knows but one-half of the achievements of "the supreme Caucasian mind."—The Builder.

WATER SYSTEM IS NOW NEARING COMPLETION

Water is already in the greater portion of the newly laid pipes of the city water system according to the report of Superintendent A. M. Martin made to the council Tuesday night although no pumping has been done to this time. The water comes from the natural flow of the wells up Tombstone canyon and is sufficient under present conditions for street sprinkling only. For this purpose it is being used at present.

Work in the big reservoir which will later supply the fire fighting system with the greatest amount of the fire-killing fluid is being rushed. Already the wall 25 feet high eight feet in thickness and 125 feet in length which is to enclose the water within the natural basin up Tombstone canyon, has been put in place. It now remains to waterproof this and to back fill it in order that the strain upon it may not be so great. The source of water for this reservoir is a matter which will later be taken up by the council.

Examination of the wells which were originally intended to be used for this purpose, proved that during the dry season their flow was only 10,000 gallons a day. Under this condition it would require almost a year to fill the reservoir without accounting for natural leakage or waste.

It is therefore probable that the city will enter into a contract with the Bisbee-Naco Water company to furnish water as they are said to have offered extremely reasonable rates.

Pipe laying for the water system is practically completed 30,506 feet of pipe of all size having been put underground. There remains 3,500 feet to be laid on Chihuahuas hill and 1,200 feet on Naco road before this portion of the system will be prepared to protect every section of the city.

The total cost of laying the pipe, (payroll) to September 3, was $15,336.67 or about 50 1/4 cents per foot.

Setting the tanks on School hill, Youngblood hill and Chihuahuas hill will be started in the immediate future. The foundations, built of concrete, are prepared to receive them with the exception of that on Chihuahuas hill which is under construction. The foundation on School hill which will receive the heaviest strain cost $2,237.60 while the other two will cost $1,765.10 each. The total cost of the reservoir including cement and labor to date of the report was $11,042.50 while the total payroll for the system to September 3, amount to $25,438.32.

The Philosopher.

Philosophers are numerous, but the only ones I have ever come across in all my life were those who had every thing their own way. How in the dickens can a starving man philosophize? How can a man who has just lost his job philosophize? Zoroaster was the most profound philosopher of his age, theoretically, but he was easily put out of temper. He once carried his irritability so far as to break a marble table to pieces with a hammer because he happened to stumble over it in the dark. The time to philosophize is when your stomach is fat with good capon lined and you are clipping coupons in a cubicle of a safe-deposit vault.—New York Press.

A Wife's Position.

Fr. England the wife is the queen, in France the companion, in Germany the housekeeper, and in Italy the slave, is the burden of an old saying. In America she seems to be a little of all the others.

Healthy Italians.

Italians of the poorer class are noted for their general good health. This is to some extent attributed to the fact that the working people of Italy eat less meat than those of any other European nation.

TWO LOST CHILDREN ALARM NEIGHBORHOOD

Half the neighborhood in and around Mason Hill were kept busy for an hour yesterday looking for two lost children.

Messrs. Boardman and Murray of the high school faculty, have boys about four years old. Both families reside on Mason hill and the tots are playmates. Early yesterday afternoon they were reported missing, a search was started, and before they were finally located all the neighbors were taking part. The business portion of the city was searched, then the outlying districts. Two tiny specks were finally discerned by one of the searchers upon Higgins hill, which upon investigation proved to be the children.

BOARDING HOUSE DESTROYED BY FIRE

Razed to the ground by fire was the C. & A. boarding house Sunday night about 8 o'clock. The building, which was located near the Irish Mag shaft, was owned by the C. & A. company and occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Engle and a number of roomers.

The origin of the fire is not known but is ascribed to a defective flue in the kitchen, in which it was first discovered. The blaze had reached such a stage at the time that the Bisbee fire department reached the scene that the boarding house could not be saved, although several residences in the immediate vicinity, were saved by the firemen from Bisbee and those of Upper Lowell.

The building was an old one, having been in place for several years, and was a local landmark. It was a two-story frame structure. The fire loss was partially covered by insurance.

NEW CHAPEL DEDICATED SUNDAY IN JIGGERSVILLE

On Sunday evening Mr. Spicer assisted the people of Jiggersville and Upper Lowell to dedicate the new Christian chapel. A splendid musical program was prepared by the boys and girls of the Bisbee school under the leadership of Mrs. Warren. Mrs. Petty of Bisbee, sang two beautiful solos, and other friends from Bisbee lent their presence and help.

Six months ago Mr. Kerr and Mr. Frick began open air meetings and an open air Bible school in Jiggersville. The interest has grown until a building was imperative. This building was made possible by the untiring efforts of Mr. Frick who, with his own hands, has wrought most of the work, and by his persistence, has enlisted friends with means to help. Hence dedication day was one of the great events in this good old mans life. His friends feel that this chapel will stand as a memorial to his love for the children of this camp. The regular services at the chapel will be on Thursday nights and Sunday afternoons. A special day is set for October 3, when one hundred are expected at the Bible school.

FUNERAL NOTICE.

GIVE PLEASANT DANCE

An enjoyable dancing party was given by the Annon club last night in Odd Fellows hall. A large crowd was in attendance, and to the strains of delightful music everybody passed a pleasant evening.

FALL RALLY.

With about 100 women in attendance the annual fall rally of the Y. M. C. A., took place last Friday evening. The evening was given over to a discussion of plans for the fall. Music was a feature of the program, after which both the President and General Secretary made appropriate remarks.

ATTEMPT BREAK OF GLOBE BASTILE

GLOBE, Sept. 20.—One of the most daring jail breaking attempts ever planned in this city, was frustrated yesterday when the county authorities unearthed a crude but very formidable outfit of tools in the county jail.

But for the defective nature of the jail breaking paraphernalia, it is probable that the escape would have been made before the authorities knew of the intentions of the prisoners. A bar across one of the north windows of the jail was sawed nearly through. It would have been the work of but a few minutes to sever this bar, giving the entire list of prisoners access to the outside world.

The suspicions of the officers were aroused Tuesday night by what seemed to be the noise of sawing, in the interior of the jail. Night Jailor Nash was on duty at the time, but there was a shortage of officers, which would have made a search for the tools of the jail breakers impractical. Nash's suspicions were kept quiet until yesterday morning.

By this precaution, the prisoners knew nothing of the intended search until yesterday forenoon, when they were transferred to the city jail. As a result, practically all of the tools were discovered.

Stowed away beneath the floor of one of the tanks, the outfit was unearthed.

It consisted of three rudely constructed saw frames, containing thin steep coping saw blades, two table knives, which had been filed into improvised saws, a piece of clock spring which had been treated in the same manner, two files, two forks, three razors and a six shooter.

The revolver, a .45 calibre single action Colt's, contained five cartridges. The rust which coated portions of it showed that it had been secreted underneath the tank for some time.

It was due to the softness of the coping saws that the attempt failed.

Of thin steel and intended for use in wood only, the teeth were soon worn away. Two of the blades are worn almost smooth. The third is broken. The improvised saws, made of knives and watch springs, had not been used to any extent.

It is apparent that the coping saws gave out before the bars could be sawed through, making it necessary for the prisoners to improvise other tools. It is probable that the crude knife saws had just been put to use, when the officers became suspicious.

It is believed by the officers that Sam and Pete Hollis, who are in custody awaiting the action of the grand jury on burglary charges, are the instigators of the attempted escape.

When the improvised tools were discovered, the saws were found in an envelope containing the name of "Mrs. Belle Hollis, wife of Sam Hollis."

According to information which has been furnished the officers by one of

FRIENDS BEAT HIM TO THE FEAST

Not always to the victor belongs the spoils as was amply proven Friday evening by a number of the friends of City Clerk George Gage. Mr. Gage, who during a hunting trip he engaged in recently killed two deer, was robbed of his spoils, and in consequence his friends enjoyed a pleasant dinner party.

Shortly after killing the game Gage sent it in to E. A. Tovrea, with the request that he keep it on cold storage until he returned. He did not return soon enough to suit the friends he had invited to partake of the venison he would provide, and so an advance feast was arranged.

With the Edelweiss cafe as the scene of action a company composed of E. A. Tovrea, L. A. Brown, John Foster, Walter Lanham, Dr. G. D. Craig and W. R. Kelly assembled to partake of the rare treat.

In the absence of any eye witnesses the story was accepted by the guests that Mr. Gage had actually slain the deer himself, and several delightful toasts to the health of their absent host were drunk.

BODY SENT AWAY.

The remains of W. H. Apper will be shipped to Trenton, N. J., this afternoon. His brother, Ellis Apper, leaves in charge of the body.

the prisoners, the six shooter is also the property of Hollis.
